Francisco Tovar

I am a Web Developer with knowledge in Javascript and Java. I have done projects using Java and NodeJS as backend technology and ReactJS and Angular as frontend technology.

I have done high level studies learning the concepts of web programming MERN Stack (Mongo, Express, React and Node) and PERN stack (Postgresql, Express, React and Node). In recent years I have gained work experience and I have been fortunate to develop Java and Angular projects. Currently, I want to continue my personal and professional growth, in a workplace where the challenge to grow and improve is frequent.
